

CONTI BOSSI FEDRIGOTTI
dal 1697

Fojaneghe

VIGNETI DELLE DOLOMITI IGT ROSSO

Elegantly structured on the palate, velvety with a long finish, this is the top wine from the Conti Bossi Fedrigotti cellars in Trentino. Produced since 1961 and the first Bordeaux blend to be made in Italy, thanks to Count Federico's happy intuition. The grapes – Merlot, Cabernet and a small percentage of Teroldego – come from the eponymous vineyard and the wine itself is the emblem of the family's nobility all over the world.

GRAPE VARIETIES

Merlot, Cabernet Franc, Teroldego.

TASTING NOTES

Look: garnet ruby red.

Nose: berry fruit and vanilla.

Palate: dry and full-bodied, with a perfect balance between acidity and tannins. Velvety with a long finish.

FOOD PAIRING

Goes with red meat, game, and mature cheeses with some bite.

SERVING TEMPERATURE: 18° C
ALCOHOLIC CONTENT: 13,5% vol.
STORAGE LIFE: 15-20 years

1961-2011 FIFTY YEARS OF FOJANEGHE

In 1957 Count Federico Bossi Fedrigotti, the father of the current owners of this historic estate, was the first to have the idea that a Bordeaux blend wine would have great potential in the Trentino and so planted the required noble varieties on his Fojaneghe estate, on wide terraces overlooking the Adige river. The first vintage of the eponymous wine was in 1961. It was regarded as revolutionary and unusual, and is still made today, fifty years after its creation. The recent addition of a small percentage of Teroldego to the blend has been made by Masi to underline the wine's Trentino origins.

